

A group of approximately 20 cyclists, wearing various team jerseys (blue, white, orange, yellow, and black), are standing in a line on a paved street in a mountain town. They are holding their road bikes. In the background, there are wooden buildings, including one with a sign that says "Sainte Marie". A white van with "Vars" on the side is parked on the left. The background features a steep, green mountain under a clear blue sky.
